Ike Pondering Vast Hike in Federal Taxes

Gasoline Levies, Postal Rates May Get Boost To Offset Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is weighing the possibility of a billion-dollar increase in gasoline taxes and postal rates. The aim: to help offset the national debt to a record peak this year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans said officials will decide within 60 days whether to ask Congress for such boosts.

Stans briefed newsmen Thursday on new figures for the biggest, most unbalanced budget in peacetime history.

For the 1959 fiscal year which began July 1, the Budget Bureau's midyear review forecast a deficit of $12,223,000,000—the highest since World War II.

In announcing the new figure, Stans said the administration will hold up spending of more than a billion dollars of extra defense funds voted by Congress for weapons procurement over a period of years. The total included 320 million authorized for the current fiscal year.

President Eisenhower, in his January budget message to Congress, had predicted a 1959 budget surplus of 466 million dollars, but shrinking revenues and higher spending prospects soon outdated that estimate.

The bureau said spending will soar to $79,223,000,000, more than five billion above the January estimate and some seven billion above actual outlays last year. Increased spending for farm programs and antirecession projects accounted for most of the rise.

Revenues will drop to 67 billion dollars, the bureau said. This is almost 7½ billion below the January calculation and two billion below 1958 collections.

This prospective drop was blamed on a recession slump in corporation income tax, down $3,700,000,000, and excise payments, off 880 million. Individual income taxes, while hitting a new peak total, are expected to be 2½ billions less than earlier estimates.

The budget chief said the latest estimates assume the recovery movement will continue through the fiscal year at its present rate.

Stans said the special fund for the national superhighway construction program will be in the red by 900 million dollars in the 1960 fiscal year which begins July 1. Unless Congress increases user taxes on gasoline and tires, he said, this money will have to come out of the regular budget.

Bumper farm crops account for the largest single increase in spending over January estimates. Because price support programs will cost much more, Agriculture Department expenditures now are expected to hit $4,100,000,000—up $1,600,000,000 from January.

Spending for housing programs will rise a billion dollars, the bureau said, mostly because of anti-recession legislation to support home mortgage credit. Unemployment programs will require $60 million more.

The postal deficit is estimated at 700 million dollars, compared with 100 million estimated in January.

Defense outlays will rise only $60 million dollars above the earlier estimate. However, the new calculations of $400,800,000 for defense absorbs a 500 - million-dollar contingency fund which Eisenhower requested in January.

O'Neill Envisions Vast Superhighways

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill said Thursday night that the eight largest cities in Ohio some day would be connected by superhighways, with the medial strips "forming part of the main street of America."

Addressing a meeting of Kiwanis clubs of District 21, the governor predicted that Ohio would have a population of 11 million by 1966. The Mahoning Valley between the Ohio River and Lake Erie, he added, will be on the main line for industrial development in the state.

The St. Lawrence Seaway and a favorable governmental climate for industrial growth will be among the factors bringing prosperity to Ohio, O'Neill said.

No Appeasement, No Retreat

U. S. President Draws Line On Red Advance in Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has drawn the line against Communist aggression in the western Pacific in a momentous speech telling Red China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate bipartisan congressional reaction to his White House address Thursday night was strongly favorable. It remained to be seen whether Red China and the Soviet Union—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand in hand" to enslave the western Pacific—would take him at his word.

Neither has indicated any need to previous warnings by Secretary of State Dulles and other top U.S. officials. Peiping Thursday un-

12½-Cent Gap Now Divides Union, GM

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry intensified its contract talks with the United Auto Workers today amid reports that the gap between General Motors and the UAW now stands at 12½ cents.

The speeded up negotiations were held against a backdrop of a UAW Wednesday strike deadline at Ford if no agreement is reached there.

The Big Three said no new contract proposals had been made to the UAW but all parties issued cautiously optimistic statements after Thursday's bargaining sessions.

Chief interest centered on Ford where UAW President Walter P. Reuther took personal command Thursday of the union's drive for a contract to cover 100,000 Ford hourly rated workers.

Unusual Saturday and Sunday talks were scheduled by the Ford-UAW teams as they sought to hammer out an agreement before the strike deadline. GM and Chrysler said they had not decided whether similar talks should be held over the weekend.

The report of the 12½-cent spread came from a usually well-informed source who insisted on anonymity. UAW and GM sources had no comment.

Eccentric's Rich Tale Proves True

LOS ANGELES — His cronies thought Abraham Greenspan, a shabbily dressed shoe-maker, was eccentric. They didn't believe he had much in his worn money belt.

Greenspan, 70, who lived frugally in a downtown hotel, died Thursday. In the belt police found $25,496 in cash and bonds.

Nationalists Halt Convoys As Reds Continue Heavy Fire

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists held back another attempt to run the Communist blockade of Quemoy today while the Reds peppered the offshore islands with more artillery fire.

As the Formosa Strait crisis rounded out a third week, Nationalist military headquarters reported Red shore batteries sprayed nearly 300 shells on Quemoy and the nearby Nationalist islands of Little Quemoy, Ehtan and Ttan. Although the shelling was comparatively light, the Nationalists decided against trying again to push supplies to the besieged island in the face of the Red gunfire which foiled the last two attempts.

There was no official indication, however, that the Nationalists had abandoned their efforts. Some Nationalist military men and the Taipei press voiced demands for more American action in getting supplies to Quemoy. They wrote off as ineffective the use of U.S. warships to escort the supply ships across the Formosa Strait only to within three miles of Quemoy.

Associated Press correspondent James Cary, who was aboard a Nationalist supply ship which was forced under Red shelling Thursday to pull off the beach at Quemoy before unloading, said the leased the heaviest artillery barrage yet on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at Stalingrad last night that any attack on Red China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower interrupted his vacation to make the blunt speech, perhaps the strongest of his career.

In his nationwide radio-TV address, beamed around the world in 40 languages by the Voice of America, he deplored the bombardment of Quemoy. He called it a tragic affair which already has killed or wounded 1,000 persons—mostly civilians.

But the issue, he said, was not the defense of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, was: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory in the hope that this will satisfy the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?"

Contending the answer is no, the President said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent—in fact brought on — World War II, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated." He said the Reds are probing, testing, and their bluff must be called or "tragedy after tragedy would befall us."

Eisenhower coupled this warning to the Communists and appeal to the free world with an urgent bid for negotiation—between the United States and Red China or, if that fails, in the United Nations.

"There is not going to be any appeasement," he said. "I believe that there is not going to be any war."

Two thirds of the President's "Report to the American People," as he called it, was on the theme, "No appeasement . . . no Munich . . . no retreat in the face of armed aggression."

The final third was conciliatory, a plea for Communist agreement to "a far better way than resort to force to settle these differences . . . the way of negotiation."

In offering either alternative, the President's voice was calm and matter-of-fact.

In rejecting appeasement and proposing negotiation, Eisenhower went further than Dulles has in previous statements on both counts.

Eisenhower seemed very close to saying "yes" to the big question—Would the United States fight for the offshore Nationalist islands?—when he declared: "It is

Danger of Major War Looms Large

Problem Unsolved: Supplying Quemoy

MAKUNG CITY, Pescadores (AP)—Nationalist China's unsuccessful attempt to land new supplies Thursday in its besieged offshore island of Quemoy underscores a grim fact—the Communist blockade is highly effective and critically serious.

Unless a remedy is found, this Nationalist fortress off the Red China coast could eventually fall from attrition. Not even U.S. 7th Fleet escort, as presently constituted, or Nationalist Chinese courage in ramming their supply ships right up onto the beach can alter the fact that the Chinese Communists can make the landing areas untenable whenever they desire.

No ship could have survived the thunderous barrage the Red mainland siege guns hurled at the four ships that tried to unload Thursday. They had to pull back to the open sea.

Aircraft landing strips on Quemoy are subject to just as intense radar-guided fire, virtually shutting off any serious hope of resupply by air. Parachute supply drops are perhaps feasible but hardly a workable method for supplying a garrison the Nationalists now estimate to number 80,000 to 100,000 troops.

This leaves very few other possibilities. A much faster landing operation might provide some hope. Thursday's convoy was on or close in to the beach 40 minutes before the shelling began.

If the landing ships had carried supply-loaded amphibious vehicles they could have sent these dashing for shore and been out of the danger zone within a few minutes.

It is possible the Communists deliberately waited before they started their attack. It is also possible that it takes that long for

City School District To Ask One-Mill Levy

Voters of Washington C. H. will be asked to approve a one-mill levy for the city schools at the Nov. 4 election to offset the loss of revenue through a reduction of the school tax rate.

At the adjourned meeting Thursday, the school board adopted a resolution asking the Board of Elections to place its proposal for the one-mill levy on the Nov. 4 ballot.

It took the action because an increase of $2,757,172 in the city school district's tax duplicate automatically reduced the school tax rate by six-tenths of a mill.

The county Budget Commission effected the cut in the rate at the conclusion of its hearing on the school budget Thursday morning. The commission acted under the law which requires a school's

1 Pupil Killed, 13 Hurt as Truck Rams School Bus

EAST PALESTINE, Ohio (AP) — An 8-year-old boy was killed and 13 other children were injured today when a truck collided with a school bus, the state highway patrol reported.

Dead was Ernest Hitchcock Jr., Rt. 1, New Springfield. He was dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital, his neck broken.

A truck of the Herriot Co. struck the rear of the bus on foggy Unity-Columbiana Road four miles northwest of here.

Five children were hospitalized. Eight others were treated in an ambulance outside the hospital and released.

The bus reportedly was slowing for a stop when the tractor-trailer collided with it. Driver of the bus was identified as John Ward, 40, of Rt. 1, Columbiana.

Little Rock Told To Enroll Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court, in a unanimous decision of profound import, today decreed an immediate go-ahead on racial integration at Little Rock's Central High School. Acting swiftly after convening at 12:11 p.m., Chief Justice Warren announced that the court had struck down a 2½-year delay order issued by a U.S. District Court judge.

The decision signaled a probable great new clash of federal vs. state power. Central High is due to open Monday. But Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, has vowed to oppose forced integration; he has said he would close the school first.

Justice Warren, in a brief announcement for the entire court, said prompt action by the high tribunal was deemed important because of the imminent opening of the high school.

A detailed, written decision will be issued by the court later. The South, and the world at large, must wait for this before getting any new definition of what the court meant when it said in 1955 that the process of ending segregation of the races in public schools must proceed with "all deliberate speed."

Though of far-reaching significance, the decision today dealt only with Central High—scene of violence and the use of federal troops to enforce integration during the last school year. In the case of Central High, the court left no doubt that deliberate speeds means a resumption of the integration process, here and now.

Gov. Faubus, when told of the decision, merely nodded. Later he told newsmen he probably wouldn't have any comment today.

However, it was generally believed at the Arkansas state capital that he will take immediate action to close the school. A recent special legislative session empowered him to do so if he saw fit.

Attorneys for the Little Rock School Board expressed disappointment.

Wayne Upton, president of the Little Rock Board of Education said, "Naturally, we will have to try to operate under it (the decision)," he said. "We, of course do not know what Gov. Faubus plans to do but if he orders us to close the school we will close the school."

The chief justice read a two-page printed opinion which was signed "per curiam" — meaning by the court.

The opinion stated that the court . . . "having fully deliberated upon the oral arguments had on Aug. 28, as supplemented by the arguments on Sept. 11, and all the briefs on file, is unanimously of the opinion that the judgment of the Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit (St. Louis) of Aug. 18 must be affirmed."

Warren added for the court that in view of the imminent start of the new school year at Central High, "we deem it important to make prompt announcement of our judgment affirming the Court of Appeals."

Warren said an opinion giving views of the justices and supporting today's decision, "will be prepared and announced in due course."

This will give the court time to set forth in detail its views on the specific issue of whether disorder and violence are sufficient legal grounds for suspending a plan of integration once it has been put in operation.

It also will afford the court the opportunity, if it sees fit, to elaborate on its 1955 command for "desegregation in public schools" with all deliberate speed."

The document thus could lay down guidelines for federal judges in dealing with integration cases.

The chief justice stated that the judgment of the Supreme Court "shall be effective immediately, and shall be communicated forthwith to the District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas."

This refers to U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley who ruled June 21 that integration should be suspended until January 1968. Lemley acted on a petition from the Little Rock School Board.

Lemley's decision was overruled by a 6-1 vote of the St. Louis appeals court.

It was not indicated how soon the Supreme Court might issue its more detailed views. Because of the momentous issues involved, it was not unlikely the court might take considerable time.

The judges now resume their interrupted summer vacation. They will open their regular 1958-59 term Oct. 6.

One of the arguments made to the high court by the attorney for the Little Rock School Board was that the law was now cloudy.

After today's decision, Thur-

Mixing Order Closes School

Virginia Board Shuns Integration Verdict

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Warren County's only high school closes at the end of classes today as the direct result of a federal court order that the white school admit 22 Negroes.

The county school board announced the "temporary suspension" of the school at Front Royal Thursday. The board said the Negroes would be enrolled Saturday and Monday. Under Virginia law, the assignment or enrollment of any Negro pupil in a white school automatically closes that school.

The school officials came to Richmond to talk over their problem with Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and state legal aides.

It was not known what action might come from the meeting.

At a news conference, Almond hinted — without further explanation—the state may have yet another plan that could keep schools from either being integrated or closed this year.

Supt. Q. D. Gasque said he did not know how long the school at Front Royal would be suspended, but he expected a formal closing order from the state by Monday.

The school board has not considered or discussed the possibility of asking Almond to allow the school to operate on an integrated basis without state funds, he said. He knew of no plans anywhere in the county to establish a private school system for the pupils involved.

When a school is closed under Virginia's massive resistance to integration laws, its control passes to the governor. He is obligated to try to reorganize and reopen it on a segregated basis.

Once an integrated school is opened, all state funds to that school and to all schools of its class—elementary or secondary—are immediately cut off.

Gasque has said previously the county does not have enough money to operate its schools by itself.

Federal Dist. Judge John Paul ordered the Negroes admitted to the Warren County school last Monday. He said a governing factor was that the county did not operate a Negro high school but sent Negro pupils to neighboring counties.

Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals refused to grant a stay of Paul's order.

Famed 'Dan McGrew' Author Dies in France at Age 84

LANCIEUX, France (AP) — Robert W. Service, poet of the Yukon who wrote "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," died Thursday night. He was 84.

The sordid poet apparently died of a heart attack. His wife was with him in their home on Robert Service Street, in this little Brittany coastal town.

Service estimated that the 130 lines of his most famous works brought him $500,000.

He was working in a bank in the Yukon and wrote the verse to be recited at a church social. It never was, however, because it had a few hells and damns.

Service said he sat up all one night scratching the verse on the backs of old envelopes. One of the bank guards, seeing the light on in the bank, fired at Service, thinking he was a robber, "and came pretty damned close."

He tossed the verse aside for some time and then, getting a $100 bonus from the bank, made arrangements with a publishing house in Toronto to bring out a book of verse at his own expense.

Supreme Court Decision To Affect Millions

good Marshall, counsel for the Negro children, told newsmen that "with this clearcut judgment, the legal atmosphere around Central High School is now cleared up and neither the School Board nor the governor nor anyone else in Arkansas can even pretend not to know what the law is."

"Anything now done to prevent desegregation in Arkansas," Marshall told reporters, "is in open defiance of the law."

In Little Rock, the mood of the people was reported even harder against integration than it was a year ago when mob violence resulted in the use of federal troops to enforce court-ordered integration at Central High.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department had an augmented force of deputy U. S. marshals and a special four-man legal team on hand in the tense city for possible use in helping carry out any integration order from the Supreme Court.

The 3 1/2 hours of arguments before the Supreme Court Thursday were mainly repetitive of those made two weeks earlier when the tribunal interrupted its summer recess to consider an intermediate phase of the Little Rock case.

At that time, the high court decided to delay a decision until it could consider the basic question in the case — whether to uphold or overturn a decision by Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., permitting a 30-month suspension of integration at Central High.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis last month rejected the delay ordered by Lemley. The Little Rock school board has asked the Supreme Court to set aside the appeals court ruling and uphold Lemley.

As he did in the previous hearing, school board lawyer Richard C. Butler pleaded for a delay in integration to permit time to work out a solution of the problem in a calmer atmosphere.

Under questioning by justices, Butler said the board has never challenged the constitutionality of the high court's integration decisions. But he said the school authorities have been placed in "an untenable position in a conflict between the state and federal governments."

And as before, opposing lawyers speaking for the government and for the seven Negro pupils trying to get back into Central High argued that a delay in resuming integration would mean yielding to mob violence and threats of such violence.

Chief Justice Warren and several other justices asked Butler what the school board would do during the 2 1/2 years, if such a delay in integration were allowed.

The school board lawyer said the group has a tentative plan. Without going into details, he said, "The board has felt it would be best to let things simmer down, but as promptly as could be possible to attempt to act as differences are reconciled."

One reason the board wants a delay, Butler said, is to permit time for court tests of various state anti-integration laws.

Deaths, Funerals

George M. Kimball

George M. Kimball, 78, a retired farmer of the South Solon community, was found dead in the yard of his home at Sedalia by neighbors Thursday morning.

Relatives here said death apparently was due to a heart attack.

He is survived by three sons, David, Harry and William Kimball, all of Washington C. H., and two step-daughters, Mrs. Cora Stand of Washington C. H. and Mrs. Marie Steele of Columbus.

The time of the services is uncertain, but his sons here said they will be held in the Ingling Funeral Home in South Charleston and that burial probably will be in the South Charleston Cemetery.

Robert Moren

Robert Moren, head of Van's Transportation, Inc., of Middletown which did contract hauling for the Armo Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., here, died unexpectedly Wednesday morning in his home in Blue Ash, near Cincinnati.

He was well known in Washington C. H., especially among personnel of Armo. Several of his company's drivers live in Washington C. H.

Services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in Blue Ash.

A. H. Hutton, division manager of Armo, said he and several others of the company here, are going to Blue Ash Friday evening and that others probably will attend the funeral Saturday.

MRS. MARGARET B. KURTZ — Services for Mrs. Margaret Blessing Kurtz, a former resident of Washington C. H., who died in her home at Lakewood Monday morning, were held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home by the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

Burial was in the Washington Cemetery with Robert Minshall, Richard Rankin, Fred J. Haffner, Dr. Horace B. Davidson, Col. John O'Leary, and Col. Jack McFarland the pallbearers.

MRS. LAURA PUGH — Services for Mrs. Laura Pugh, of 119 Ohio Ave., who died Tuesday morning in Memorial Hospital, were held at 1 p. m. Thursday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Pallbearers for the burial in the Washington Cemetery were Max Long, Roy Underwood Jr., Norman Underwood, Carlton Long, Garry Underwood and James Underwood.

rate had to be cut by six-tenths of a mill.

The old duplicate was calculated to raise $313,856 with the old rate of 15.1 mills. The new, and increased duplicate, is calculated to raise $341,369 with the reduced rate. The school board figures that $351,779 is needed from local taxes and the one-mill asked is calculated to assure this amount.

It was emphasized at the school board's meeting that the one-mill asked will not make possible restoration of the services that were eliminated when the voters turned down a 3.6-mill levy proposal this spring.

APPROVAL of the one-mill levy request will not bring back a remedial reading teacher, and high school student counselors or the employment of additional classroom teachers the board says are needed to bring class enrollments down to the 30-pupil maximum. Neither will it make possible the bus transportation of more pupils. If these services are restored, the board explained, another levy will have to be voted.

If the one-mill levy request is approved Nov. 4, the city school

4-H Night Held By Wilson PTO

Plans Also Made
For School Supper

Planning for the annual school supper and the 4-H Club Achievement Night program highlighted the Thursday meeting of the Wilson School Parent-Teacher Organization.

Members of the PTO voted to hold the supper in November. The date will be announced later.

Mrs. Frank Dill, advisor to the Wilson Country Sisters, introduced Rose Mary Caplinger, winner of the county junior health improvement contest; Johnnie Caplinger, another winner of the health contest; and Sue Stephenson, junior advisor who was the outstanding 4-H girl in the county. She gave a brief outline of her 4-H club work.

Others introduced were Linda Stephenson, junior advisor who was the winner of the safety speech contest in the county. She represented the county at the state fair. Her talk to the group included many remarks on safety.

The Wilson Country Sisters Club was rated as one of the three top clubs in the county. Phil Grover presented certificates of achievement to all its 4-H members and gave a brief history of the Club.

The Wilson Wonders Club under the leadership of their advisor, Frank Dill, also won its share of prizes. Billy Haines won reserve grand champion of his market lamb at the Fair here.

PRESIDENT Dill appointed a committee of Frank Weade, chairman, Howard Stewart, Walter Paul and himself to check on playground equipment.

Mrs. Robert Weeks gave the secretary's report. Plans for the membership drive were announced. Prizes for each grade will be awarded for the most members. Mrs. Richard Barger, treasurer, will purchase needed first-aid supplies. Mrs. Paul Keefe was appointed news reporter for the year.

The new principal, George Groh, and Mrs. Groh, were introduced. Parents of transfer pupils to the Wilson school were introduced. Refreshments of cookies and coffee were served.

Vice President Harry Townsend will be in charge of the October program. Meeting dates are the second Thursday of each month. Mrs. Langdon McCoy and Mrs. Richard Barger are the den mothers for the Cub Pack sponsored by the PTO.

rate will be 15.5 for operation, three-tenths of a mill for retirement of old bonds (approximately $65,000) and 2.5 mills for retirement of the $645,000 bond issue which financed the two new schools and additions to two others. The total school tax (including the one mill requested) next year will be 18.3 mills—15.5 for operation, three-tenths of a mill for old bond retirement and 2.5 mills for the new bond retirement.

Supt. Smith noted that the 2.5 mills for new bond retirement was just what the board had calculated.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
During those hot days recently the corn in this part of Ohio really started to ripen in earnest before frost has a chance to do any damage.

I have heard a number of persons predict early frosts, but I recall the old saying in connection with the weather that "one extreme follows another." This summer certainly has not been a hot one as compared with a normal summer.

This would indicate that the fall may be late and the winter mild, although I have heard predictions of an unusually severe winter ahead—but those making the prediction have given no particular reason for the belief.

I have not consulted the "Paint Valley Prophet to know what is ahead.

As I drive along the roads of the county, I see big corn on all sides, with large ears and a lot of them in nearly every field.

Exceptions to the big corn are where low ground was covered with water until the corn was either entirely killed or failed to develop.

Generally speaking, however, Fayette County's corn crop is a big one, and the soybean crop gives every indication of being one of the best in years.

RUSH HAS NEW HOME
Rush Engle, who owned the former store building at Jasper Mills, 4 1/2 miles west of Washington C. H., is completing a new five room house on the site, which takes the place of a metal trailer he has occupied since his building burned Jan. 18, 1957. The fire drove him and some 19 others out of their home and destroyed all of their personal property.

Rush not only lived in the big store room, which had a former lodge room on the second floor, but Kany Keech and another family lived in the apartments he had made in the building.

Most of the occupants escaped of Lancaster, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Burton of Woodstock, third vice president; Victor H. Ries, professor of biology at Ohio State University, secretary, and Mrs. Howard Piehler of Gahanna, treasurer.

The two-day meeting ended today with flower shows, a style show and awards for floral displays.

HAZARD'S NEW HOME
Dr. Charles C. Hazard, 64, practicing osteopath here for 40 years, died in hospital after a three-week illness.

Dr. W. H. Limes, optometrist, located in Washington C. H. Mrs. V. J. Dahl, 79, widow of former mayor, died here.

The melon crop here was badly damaged by rains.

A serious outbreak of rabies in New Holland community resulted in nearly score of persons being treated. Many dogs and some livestock were killed.

New Holland was planning a barefooted and thinly clad in bitter cold weather and might have perished if neighbors had not given them shelter.

Later the families were newly equipped through the generosity of the people in the neighborhood.

The store room, a large frame structure, stood immediately south of the former C&MV depot building, and was built in 1905 by Newman Jones. Lee Ortman had a grocery store in the lower part of the building for many years.

Rush vividly recalls the tragic death of Abner Knisey and daughter, Marie, who were struck by the eastbound "fast line" on the B&O, many years ago.

Rush heard the crash and he and others hurried to the scene, to find the terrible tragedy which had claimed the lives of two fine people of the community. They were killed while crossing the track in a closed car.

Rush recalls the days when John McDonald operated the elevator at Selden, once the name for Jasper Mills, and also a lot of other things about the Selden community of which you may hear more later. He has spent most of his life in the community.

FROM AN OLD RECIPE
I have always had the idea, although I don't know why, that tomato catchup was not in use until little more than a half century ago. But this concoction, which is so popular with a great many folks, has been in use for much over 100 years.

This is disclosed in "Directions for Cookery" an old recipe book published in 1846, or 112 years ago.

From the old volume I quote the recipe for making tomato catchup. "Take a peck of large ripe tomatoes. Having cut a slit in each, put them into a large preserving kettle, and boil them for half an hour. Then take them out, and press and strain the pulp through a hair sieve.

"Put it back into the kettle, and add an ounce of salt and ounce of powder mace, half an ounce of powder red cloves, a small teaspoonful of ground black pepper, the same of cayenne pepper and eight tablespoonfuls of ground mustard.

"Mix the seasoning with the tomato pulp let it boil slowly four hours. Then take it out of the kettle and let it stand till next day, in an uncovered tureen. When cold, stir into it one pint of the best

In the solemn hours
God's Gift is Flowers

The traditional way to say "with sympathy" is to say it with flowers. Through the centuries men have turned to this blessed way of expressing their tenderest thoughts to friends and dear ones.

Those left behind will never forget the beautiful memory picture your thoughtfulness helps to create. And in years to come, you gain rich satisfaction in having contributed to the silent sermon on everlasting life that flowers add to this sacred occasion.

We send Sympathy Flowers-by-Wire anywhere.

A Helpful Project for Retired Executives

An idea comes from a Western city which might apply well to this or any other community, if retired men of ability sought to put it in practice.

It is presumed to be true in most cases that those who retire at the executive level in a successful business and who still have health and activity, have a desire to retain a hand in what goes on with the business or industrial community.

The city here referred to, San Francisco, recently saw six retired corporation executives hit upon a plan which benefits others as well as themselves.

Executives in such a city probably could mean no more to their home communities than would be the case in hundreds of other places, even those much smaller.

These six men set up a management consultant agency offering their best advice at almost no cost. They insist that they are doing it largely for the stimulation and fun they get out of the effort they give.

It happens, according to the news report on this unusual incident, that the members of this new advisory organization represent a total of almost 300 years of management experience. They are making their experience available to business and industry in need of industrial engineering. They may go a step further and offer their guidance in matters concerned with public affairs or general civic matters.

Another similar case heard of is in Toronto, Canada, where 32 retired senior executives have formed a company named "Directors' Service." They offer to do for clients that work which in many large companies would ordinarily be done by a board of directors, by counseling on matters of finance, expansion, contracts, merchandising, public relations etc. The charge this group makes is $75 a month for such time as their service is required.

Perhaps here is a project that could be of far more than average help to any locality.

Today's Youth: No Boundaries

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Changing American youth in a single generation has changed its problems, too.

"When we were young," said Ruth Hagy, "money and security were the big problems—and money meant security."

"The younger generation now is also interested in security. But to it a real world peace, not money, stands for security."

"We had to learn to be internationalists. The young people of today were born into a world without boundaries—and are at home in it."

"They are often more interested in international than national problems. Hopes for peace which seem impossible to us seem quite possible to them."

Miss Hagy, a dark-haired, handsome grandmother, is financial chairman of the National Student Assn., and producer-moderator of the ABC-TV Sunday network show College News Conference.

Since 1952 more than 1,000 student leaders have appeared on the program, interviewing scientific, political and military figures. Some of their questions have been so pertinent and probing the celebrities were left shaken.

Miss Hagy, a former Philadelphia newspaperwoman, became interested in youth work because she thought the field was being neglected.

"The student was a vital political force in every country but our own," she said.

"But our younger generation was being called delinquent, silent beat, and a victim of too much conformity."

She believes America's youth today is largely idealistic, interested in good government, and willing to take on civic responsibility.

"Kids are afraid of being called a square," she remarked. "The good students need to be recognized equally as the athlete or social big wheel on the campus, and they are getting to be."

"There has been a general change in the climate of the country, off campus and on. It's no disgrace to be a good student. It's fashionable. And there is more of a realization that the college student leaders are our political leaders of tomorrow."

"Leadership stands out early. It needs to be recognized and trained."

Miss Hagy has carefully followed the budding career of most of the student leaders who appeared on her program.

"They are doing terrifically well," she said. "A number are taking active roles in political parties."

"The White House has two of our kids. Two more are in the vice president's office. The State Department has six. Fourteen are working as administrative or legislative assistants to senators."

To her knowledge not one of the 1,000-plus student leaders has become an adult delinquent. None has been arrested for forging a check, holding up a bank, or bribing a mayor.

We Need the Geneticists

By George Sokolsky

Scientists like to hold congresses where learned men of their particular discipline, as they call it, meet to read and listen to papers, to hold seminars on particular phases of whatever it is that they are studying and to have their kind of a good time which generally is to talk shop and to see what is happening in the trade.

Such congresses and conferences are held in different parts of the world, which also give the scientists an opportunity to travel. Some take their wives along and it makes a pleasant trip.

The meetings are of considerable importance because at them are read learned papers which are afterwards published in learned quarters and which often present new data, new discoveries, new developments of value.

The Tenth International Congress of Genetics met at Montreal in August and the Russians did not come. In fact, Iron Curtain geneticists did not come. So whatever developments have occurred within the Soviet Universal State were not made known to the world on this occasion.

Genetics is a science which deals with the biologic problem of heredity and at this particular moment is important because it is necessary to have information, carefully checked, on the effects of the hydrogen bomb fall - out upon heredity in man and beast and even in the plants that grow in soil.

Such information becomes available very slowly because heredity is a slow process. Mutations are not always recognized and even if recognized what can be done about it?

One of the arguments against testing new bombs is that we increase the quantity of radioactive strontium in the atmosphere and that we are reaching a dangerous point at which the fall - out will affect the heredity in man.

Recently, the Danish government refused to permit an American atomic submarine, "The Skate," in their country because they feared that if an accident occurred the Danes would become sterile. Apparently, the Danish scientists had read the wrong reports.

But the fact is that the ordinary citizen who does not know the difference between strontium and plutonium and soap wonders what all this is about and he does get fearful that he might produce a two-headed child or a calf with an eye in his forehead as a result of all this.

Therefore a congress of geneticists now is very important and it is in the news. But the Russians did not come and they read no papers. The Russians have their own brand of genetics which is very different from what is accepted as correct in the Western World. They adhere, more or less, to a system evolved by Michurin and advocated by a Stalin - favored agriculturalist, Lysenko.

This is supposed to be Marxian genetics, although there is no evidence in his writings that Marx knew anything about genetics.

However, it is very bad politics for the Communists to recognize that there are any inherited characteristics because that might lead to a conclusion as to the superiority of one kind of man over another; so they believe that the control of all characteristics is environmental.

Change the environment and you change the flora and fauna, including man, who, according to their ideas, is just another mammal.

Presumably, rather than get into a dialectical argument over this question, in the course of which someone might ask what Karl Marx knew about it anyhow, the Communist scientists were told to stay home.

The geneticists passed a resolution making it clear that they regard politics in science unscholarly.

The scientists said:

"...We consider any attempt on the part of governments to interfere on political, ideological or other grounds with the free pursuit of science and free dissemination of scientific information as a serious violation of the basic principles of research. We appeal to the learned academies and scientific societies of all countries and to the United Nations and its organizations to exert all possible influence to persuade all governments to adhere to the principles outlined here. Their violation will, no doubt, spell the end of scientific freedom and therefore also of scientific progress."

Of course, they ask too much. A scientist can be a spy, the agent of a foreign government, a blabbermouth, or some other kind of undesirable.

Some must be kept home for their own safety. But generally speaking, the principle the geneticists enunciated is correct. The world needs the kind of information these men produce.

Diet and Health Sleep Comes Slowly At Different Levels

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

"I WAS so tired last night that I fell asleep as soon as my head touched the pillow." Most of you, I dare say, have made this statement to friends at one time or another. Yet I doubt that it was quite accurate. Even without intending to, you probably exaggerated a bit.

Sleep Is Gradual

Sleep, as a rule, just doesn't come that suddenly. In fact, it comes gradually and varies in depth. Besides, all of your body doesn't fall asleep at the same time.

Sleep actually consists of eight different levels. It ranges from the relaxed, yet wide-awake level, to a very deep sleep. Generally, we say a person is asleep when he reaches the sixth level, although real sleep may come toward the lower part of the fifth level.

Dreamy State

The fifth level is a dreamlike state in which the sleeper is easily awakened. The sixth level is classified as "light sleep."

Your various organs and senses fall asleep at different times, first one and then another. As for the organs, the large muscles of the back, legs and arms quiet down first. Then the smaller muscles, such as those of the hands and feet, go to sleep. Finally, the smallest muscles, the eyebrows, lips and eyelids, become quiet.

The senses also fall asleep in turn with the power to effect conscious movement, the sense of smell being the first to relax. Then vision, hearing and the sense of touch go to sleep in that order.

What causes us to sleep at all is something that has puzzled doctors for a long time. One theory is that the brain, or perhaps only a limited area of it, suffers a reduction in the blood supply.

It Explains Why

If this is true, it would help explain why we feel sleepy after a large meal (blood is diverted from the brain to aid the digestive process) and why we become drowsy in front of a fire or in a tub of warm water (blood again is diverted to fill blood vessels expanded by the heat).

There has been much talk recently about whether a person can learn anything while asleep. Some investigators report that perhaps some knowledge can be gained with special teaching procedures while a person is in a drowsy state, but that learning while in a deep sleep is practically impossible.

B. S. T.: I am 67 and have recently lost my sense of taste and smell. What can I do?

Answer: It is not uncommon for people to lose their sense of taste and smell as they become older. In most cases this loss is permanent and it is not possible to correct it.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has offered no solution to the trouble around Formosa except to suggest negotiation with the Red Chinese and to warn them not to push their luck.

Neither idea is new. His broadcast Thursday night seemed to have a double purpose: to explain to the public why this country might get involved in fighting and to emphasize to the Communists we'd fight if necessary.

One thing he did do: he hinted more strongly than ever before the United States would use armed force against the Red Chinese if they actually attempted to capture the Quemoy and Matsu islands. So far they've only been bombarding the islands from the mainland.

Only a week ago Secretary of State Dulles, with Eisenhower's approval, released a 90-word statement saying the President had not yet decided what we'd do if the Reds tried to take Quemoy and Matsu.

Those islands, close to the mainland, are held by the Nationalist troops of Chiang Kai-shek, an American ally, whose main forces are on Formosa, 100 miles from the coast.

But what Eisenhower left unanswered was this: how we'd try to negotiate with the Communists if we sat down to talk with them. He said this country would not appease the Reds by letting them capture Quemoy and Matsu.

But if in negotiation it was agreed the Reds could have the islands—if they'd just stop shooting—that in itself would be an act of appeasement. It would be yielding to their threat to use force if they didn't get the islands.

But Eisenhower seemed to rule that out unless Chiang Kai-shek agrees. He said: "Naturally, the United States will adhere to the position it first took in 1955, that we will not in these talks (with the Red Chinese) be a party to any arrangement which would prejudice the rights of our ally, the Republic of China."

That follows the same line laid down by Dulles earlier this week when, asked if the United States would negotiate the future of the islands, provided the Reds stopped using force, he said: "The United States is not in a position to negotiate the future of property which it does not own and which belongs to another and friendly government (Chiang's Nationalist government on Formosa)."

Since Chiang depends on the United States for his existence, it shouldn't be difficult for the United States, if it wanted to, to pressure him into yielding the offshore islands.

But if letting the Red Chinese have those islands—provided they stop shooting—is ruled out, what can this country possibly negotiate with the Communists? Perhaps nothing at all.

It's possible, if such negotiations broke down, that the problem would be dumped on the United Nations. There an effort might be made by U.N. members, who think Red China should have the islands, to work out something like this:

Neutralizing the islands, or letting the Reds have them, and then putting Formosa itself under a U.N. trusteeship instead of letting the Reds have that too.

Such a trusteeship would, of course, mean the end of Chiang's regime. He'd have to go to some friendly asylum elsewhere. But this is all pretty iffy. Both Chiang and the Red Chinese might reject any such proposal.

But if the solution doesn't lie somewhere in these ideas, then any solution at all seems remote and the world can just hope the present shooting stops short of war.

Toledoan Admits Slaying in Georgia

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Police said today 23-year-old Willie Lee Jenkins of Toledo admitted he killed a man in a fight in Atlanta, Ga., last Aug. 16.

Jenkins was arrested on an anonymous tip. Detectives Kenneth Foss and James Wood said he told them Wednesday night he had been in a fight with a man he didn't know and kicked him to death.

Jenkins refused to waive extradition. He was held on Toledo's suspicious person charge, pending instruction from Atlanta authorities.

Liquor Chief Cracks Down In Akron-Canton, Lima Areas

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's liquor enforcement chief made some sharp comments Thursday night and took strong action because of conditions in two areas of the state.

Raymond J. Ripberger said he had transferred all 14 state liquor agents in the Akron-Canton district because he "was not getting the type of operation we should" from the men. The head of the 14-county district, Stanley Ridge, was transferred to Cleveland.

Across the state in Allen County, six liquor agents were "verbally abused" and chased from an Elks picnic by sheriff's deputies, he said.

Because of the actions of local officials, liquor law enforcement has broken down, he charged. Although the sponsors of the picnic had no liquor permit, Ripberger said, high power malt liquor was on the premises. And agents reported counting 18 slot machines in the picnic area, he said.

The enforcement chief said he would recommend to the state liquor board withholding of liquor permit fees which would go to the county. Last year, fees returned to Allen County cities and townships amounted to $83,000.

In Lima, Sheriff Clay Cotterman said Ripberger's agents had no business at the Elks party. It was a private affair, he contended.

"I asked each one individually if he belonged to the Elks," the sheriff said. "Each said no. I told them I'd guarantee their safe exit that time but I wouldn't guarantee anything if they came back."

Liquor agents, he charged, have not cooperated with him "in any shape or form."

Of the Akron-Canton situation Ripberger said:

"The agents had been reporting since March that there was no pin-ball operations in the area."

A special flying squad of agents were dispatched to the vicinity a few weeks ago. They confiscated a truckload of slot machines, Ripberger said.

Named to head the district in place of Ridge was Thomas Dominick, 38, of Cleveland. Ridge was placed under Michael T. Corrado, enforcement chief here.

"Our investigation," Ripberger said, "failed to disclose anything that would allow us to go beyond transfers. I had anticipated something stronger."

Fayette Tops District in Sales Tax Gain

Fayette was the only county in the South Central Ohio District to show an increase over last year in sales tax receipts for the week ending Aug. 30.

Here are collections for neighboring counties for the week ending Aug. 30 and the year to date (figures in parentheses are for last year):

Clinton $11,307 ($11,538), $70,381 ($83,444); Greene $25,963 ($27,616);

Uncle Sammy To Seek Loans To Pay Bills

He May Have Trouble
In Straightening Out
His Financial Setup

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK. (AP)—Like any head of the family whose budget has been scuttled by unexpected cash outlays and income disappointments, Uncle Sam is about to seek new loans to tide him over.

He may have to pay dearly for them. He must try to keep them from further upsetting the money markets and spurring inflation.

It'll be quite a trick, if he can pull it off.

The U. S. Budget Bureau has just spelled out in cold figures how much more it's going to take for Uncle Sam to pay his bills.

The market in government and corporate bonds is indicating today what terms he is likely to have to pay.

The terms those with money to lend now ask and their wariness about taking new offerings have caused a number of companies and local governments to cancel or postpone their own trips to the money market.

And the U. S. Treasury has just seen its own securities take another price tumble while investors turned instead to gobbie up 350 million dollars of Sears, Roebuck bonds paying 4 1/2 per cent.

Falling prices on government securities is raising their yield. The highest now is on a 3 1/2 per cent Treasury bond bid down below 93 to turn a yield of 3.84 per cent to those who buy at that price.

Next month the Treasury must raise several billion in new cash. And there'll have to be more later.

The Treasury foresees a 12 1/2-billion-dollar deficit by next June. The Treasury's dilemma is: Should it raise part of the new loans it must have by offering medium and long-term bonds at the risk of competing with state and local governments also seeking cash and with corporations? If they fail to get new funds at reasonable rates the business recovery could be impeded.

Or should the Treasury rely almost entirely on short-term borrowings, the kind that usually appeal chiefly to commercial banks and which might swell the money supply and give inflation another leg up in its war on the family pocket book?

A speeded-up business recovery, and even inflation, could give the Treasury some help by reviving tax collections. More unlikely is that help might come through an economy revival in federal spending.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Are you eligible to vote in November? You believe you are?

There's a 15 per cent chance you're wrong.

That's the calculation of a non-partisan group organized recently to spur voter registration. It calls itself Voters' Information Program (VIP).

B. H. Oakley, a VIP trustee, says recent studies indicate that more than 15 per cent of potential voters in such counties as Cuyahoga, Summit, Montgomery and Clark are ineligible to vote even though they believe they are.

The Franklin County figure is 10 per cent, he estimates.

Oakley said the estimates were based, in part, in the results of election board checking of petitions to put a union shop ban proposal on the November ballot.

"We found that apparently 15.6 of all those who signed petitions, presumably under the impression that they were eligible to vote, were either rightly or wrongly eliminated," Oakley pointed out.

Ohio Poison Control Center Is Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A round-the-clock single poison control center for all of Ohio was proposed today to the Ohio Health Commissioners Conference.

The proposal came from the president of the Ohio State Medical Assn., Dr. George A. Woodhouse of Pleasant.

He said the association's new poison control committee should consider either a central control center or area centers. They would be designed to help combat a rising tide of accidental poisonings by products used in the home, on farms and in factories.

Dr. Woodhouse also proposed study of possible state legislation for uniform labeling of such products and a statewide educational program.

HAVE BABY? NOTHING TO IT!—Mrs. James Beggs, 28, shows the newest member of the family to brother Jerry, 2, and sister Donna Kay, 3 1/2, in Kansas City, Kan. But the story is, Mrs. Beggs got up at 3 a.m., prepared her truck driver husband's breakfast and got him off to work, then delivered the baby herself, then awakened the four children, prepared breakfast for them, sent two to school, then did ironing.

Employers Offered Services of OSES

In a letter sent to 40 organizations and clubs, Mrs. Matilda Jo Smith, manager of the Washington C. H. office of the Ohio State Employment, urged them "to assist in speeding improvement of economic conditions in this area."

The letter was sent by Mrs. Smith to groups not previously contacted to help with the "Hire Now" campaign which ends Monday.

Mrs. Smith emphasized that the OSES office was created to place persons in employment free of charge to the employer and employee. Employers were invited by Mrs. Smith to visit the office or seek the employment service's aid in finding employees.

Tough TV Woodsman Given Basic Training by Brownies

NEW YORK (AP)—Buddy Ebsen, who plays the role of an outstanding woodsman of colonial days in the new television series "Northwest Passage," was ambushed the other day into describing his personal life in the woods and how to start a fire without matches.

"You take a couple of hot electrical wires," he said, "and touch their ends together and if you're lucky the sparks will eventually light something."

Ebsen, the most candidly refreshing TV outdoor hero who has yet crossed our wilderness path, confessed that his personal life in the woods has been confined to serving as outdoor consultant to his daughter's Brownie troop.

However, as Sgt. Iunk Marriner of Rogers' Rangers in Kenneth Roberts' "Northwest Passage," making its debut on NBC-TV Sunday, he's the craftiest woodsman on the winning side of the French and Indian War.

Ebsen has three daughters, aged 9, 8 and 6, and one attractive wife (a Brownie mother) who accompanied him to New York and listened with growing horror as he described his life in the woods as outdoor consultant for her Brownie troop.

"I have here," he said, "a card identifying me as a Brownie outdoor consultant—and I got it just the way every other consultant got his. My wife said she had to take the Brownies to the woods for a weekend and a man had to be along."

"So I, along with 24 other Brownie fathers, enlisted in this course taught by a Brownie leader. First she showed us pictures of things like a guy up to his armpits in snow and she said, 'This is snow.' I kept asking her how to make a fire without matches, but she kept ignoring me."

"Somehow I managed to get my outdoor consultant's card and my wife and I went off to this cabin in the woods with 24 Brownies. I had to sleep in the same room with 'em and the first night I overslept. It was broad daylight when I woke up and there were 24 pairs of Brownie eyes staring at me. I dived into a sort of broom closet and that was my dressing

Stork Fouls Up Hospital Affair

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP)—A multiplication problem arose today in plans of the Branch County Community Health Center to celebrate the birth of the 10,000th baby since it opened in 1939.

It seemed very simple when Mrs. Ehrle Crandall, wife of a filling station attendant, was wheeled into the delivery room. Everyone waited expectantly for No. 10,000 to be born.

Some time later the hospital officials were puzzling over the proper thing to do. Should No. 10,000 get all the honors? Or should No. 10,001 share in them, too?

Mrs. Crandall had given birth to twin boys.

Ted Williams Now Tied for AL Bat Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Well, look who's tied for the American League batting lead. A guy named Williams from Boston.

It's been a long haul. All that fuss over his ankle in the spring, and missing opening day because of food poisoning. He didn't get over 300 until July 1. Then he had another spit spat with a booing crowd.

He spent his 40th birthday fighting a virus. The sickness kept him out of action from Aug. 24 to last Tuesday, when he was fifth in the batting race at 315.

He has gone 5-for-11 since, tying teammate Pete Runnels for the lead at 320 Thursday with a 2-for-4 day as the Red Sox lost 4-1 at Chicago. Right behind is Bob Cerv of Kansas City at 319, with Cleveland's Vic Power fourth at 315.

Williams, shooting for his sixth title (although a far cry from his winning .388 of last season, drove in the lone Boston run as the White Sox swept the three-game set and took a 3½-game lead over the Red Sox for second place.

The New York Yankees, who could clinch the pennant Sunday, were idle. They open a two-game set at Chicago tonight with a 10½-game lead and their magic number at five.

Washington took a season series from Detroit for the first time since 1954 by beating the Tigers 7-6, and Kansas City belted Baltimore 7-1 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 4-3 in the only National League game.

Dick Donovan (13-13) threw a seven-hitter for the White Sox. But he needed Turk Lown's mop-up after he gave up his only two walks (one to Runnels, who was 1-for-3), and Williams' single in the eighth inning. The White Sox counted their four in the fifth.

Two-out, two-run singles by Jim Landis and Nellie Fox did it against Ike Delock (12-7).

Roy Sievers and Albie Pearson each drove in two runs for the Senators. John Romonosky (2-4) won it in relief. He retired the first 17 men he faced, but needed Ted Cleveland's help to put down a three-run Tiger try in the ninth.

Al Ciccotte (3-4) lost it. Ned Garver, knocked off the birds for the fourth time in six decisions this season with a four-hitter. They scored on two singles and a fly ball in the third inning, but Garver (12-10), a Comeback of the Year possibility, gave up only one more hit, none after the fifth. Preston Ward's sacrifice fly gave the A's a 2-1 led in the fifth against Billy O'Dell (14-11). Cerv's lone hit was his 33rd home run, a two-on shot that capped a five-run eighth.

Bob Alkire Playing Football in Army

Pfc Bob Alkire, who was graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1953 with the reputation of one of the finest quarterbacks ever to have played with the Lions, is back on the gridiron — this time as a quarterback with the Ft. Belvoir service team.

Reports from the Army base indicate that he has lost none of his passing accuracy or deception in ball-handling.

He is sharing the quarterbacking chores with ace quarterback of the University of Illinois Big Ten team before he entered the service.

The Ft. Belvoir team will open the season against the always-tough Quantico Marines.

Alkire, quarterback of the fabulous WHS team of 1952 that broke all kinds of scoring records, took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. He is now nearing the end of his two-year enlistment and expects to be discharged in December.

Lions Could Win Logan Game If They Get Breaks, Coach Says

Optimism reigned over the WHS football camp as they prepared for their initial game of the season Friday night at Logan.

Running through their final drill under the lights Thursday night, the Lions were full of pep and enthusiasm.

Coach Fred Domenico commented Friday morning: "If the boys take advantage of the breaks they will take tonight's game."

The Chieftain line is much heavier than the Lion forward wall but the backfields are fairly evenly matched in weight.

Domenico said the Logan eleven uses the same type of split-T offense as the Lions.

Ponies To Seek Support

Football players will be all over the streets in downtown Washington C. H. Saturday.

Members of the five Pony League teams will be selling "donation cards" for $1 each, in order to get money to pay for oil equipment and to buy new.

Eddie Mitchell, president of the league, said the teams will work in two hour shifts. Saturday. They will also sell the tickets the following Saturday.

The opening games of the Pony League will be Sept. 20 at Gardner Park, when the Big Boys meet the Feeders and the Marksmen the Splinters. The Mixers drew the first bye.

Mitchell is asking everyone to support the Pony League, which was started last year to give fifth and sixth graders a chance to play organized and supervised football.

By keeping the youngsters busy with football, much delinquency is kept down in the city, members of the sponsoring Boosters Club feel. It gives the boys something to do with their spare time, they contend.

Boxer Afraid He Will Score KO Too Soon

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Len Matthews is worried about his scheduled 10-round fight at the Arena tonight against Boston's light-hitting Tommy Tibbs.

He's not worried about losing, but rather how he'll win. The 19-year-old Philadelphia lightweight, who has won 12 of 13 bouts by knockouts, is afraid the bout won't go the limit.

Two Drunken Drivers Fined And Jailed

Two drunk drivers and a man charged with passing a school bus were among the traffic defendants in Municipal Court Friday morning.

Orville Herbert Conaway, 39, of 628 Warren Ave., was arrested by police on W. Court St. 2:55 a. m. Friday for driving while intoxicated. After pleading guilty Conaway was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail. Possessor of a Utah driving license, Conaway's rights in Ohio were suspended for a year.

Raymond Barnhart, 21, S. Solon, was fined $200 and costs after he admitted driving while intoxicated. He was sentenced to three days in jail. Barnhart was arrested early Thursday morning by police.

Charles Tucker, Columbus, was charged with passing a school bus on Sept. 4 in an affidavit signed by Delbert Carr, who said Tucker passed the bus after it had stopped in Jefferson Township. His case was continued until next Friday at 10 a. m. after he pleaded not guilty. Tucker wanted time to get an attorney to represent him.

Richard C. Weiss, 20, Memphis, Tenn., forfeited a $15 bond on a charge of running a red light. Three drivers charged with driving 70 mph in a 60 mph zone on a state highway forfeited $20 bonds. They were Goldie Irene Sherill, 59, Akron; Donald L. Wachslz, 23, Chicago; and Edward A. Naegel, 43, Columbus.

Leo H. Buse, Cincinnati, also forfeited $15 bond on a charge of speeding.

Man's Hand Crushed In Armco Accident

One man was admitted and another treated and released at Memorial Hospital Thursday after being injured at work.

Admitted was James D. Hensley, Route 3, an employee of Armco Drainage and Metal Products Inc. He suffered a crushed right hand when it was caught in a big die press Thursday afternoon.

Hensley, a surgical patient at the hospital, was reported in "satisfactory" condition Friday noon.

Treated and released was Herbert Colburn, Route 1, Clarksburg. He caught his finger in a saw while working at the Webber C. French Manufacturing Co., and received lacerations.

Also treated and released Thursday was Teresa Stratton, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stratton, 910 S. North St., who fell on some cement steps and suffered lacerations on her left eyebrow.

Camp Fire Girls Elect Officers

New officers were elected at the first fall meeting of the T and A Camp Fire Girls held in the home of the leader, Mrs. Robert Parish.

Elected were Linda Parish, president; Vicki Wilson, vice president; Gil Garrett, secretary; Diane Fenton, corresponding secretary; Nellie Maude Case, treasurer, and Cynthia Waller, scribe.

Plans were discussed for the coming year and the girls enjoyed a friendship circle. The next meeting will be held Sept. 16.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dean Drake, New Holland, are the parents of a 7-pound, 4-ounce daughter, born in Memorial Hospital at 5:17 a. m. Friday.

Injured Driver Fined After Car Hits Pole

A 20-year-old West Jefferson driver ran into a telephone pole on E. Elm St. early Friday, injuring himself and getting a traffic citation.

Paul Damon Parsons was treated at Memorial Hospital for a broken finger on his right hand and lacerations of the nose. He was released.

Police said Parsons lost control of his 1956 convertible after going across the railroad tracks and collided with the pole while rounding a curve. The pole was damaged as was the front of the car.

Cited for reckless operation, Parsons was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court Friday. He pleaded guilty.

Hillsboro Schools Enroll 1779 Pupils

HILLSBORO — A total of 1,779 pupils are enrolled in Hillsboro Schools. This includes 773 at the high school, 519 at Washington Elementary School and 487 at Webster Elementary School.

This is a slight increase over last year.

New Holland Town Hall Now Has New Look

NEW HOLLAND — Major improvements have now been completed on the New Holland Town Hall, which have greatly altered the appearance of the building, as well as improving the condition of the structure.

Most noticeable change was the removal of the old bell tower on the southwest corner of the building. This corner is now the location of a new and more powerful fire siren.

The financial end of this work was done by the village and the siren was installed as part of a program to keep fire insurance rates down in the community.

Arch Post 477, American Legion, which occupies the second floor of the building, has had the slate roof repaired, new drain spouting installed, and all outside woodwork on the upper floor painted.

The lower floor woodwork has also been painted, as well as the concrete block part of the building on the street level.

Along with the Legion Post, the building houses village and township offices and the New Holland fire department.

A number of other business buildings in the downtown area have had major painting and improvement programs during the summer.

These include the Masonic building, New Holland Theater, the building housing Mary Belle's Restaurant and Ackley's Restaurant, and Louis Cash Store, all on North Main Street, and Fletcher Motors, on South Main Street.

All in all, it gives the business section quite a decided improvement in appearance.

New Factory Being Built Over Old One

SABINA — The Mechanics' Tool and Forge Co., one of Sabina's tool factories, has begun a type of construction that is unusual in this area.

The new building, to be put up by the A. L. Rhoads Construction Co., of Washington C. H., will be fireproof and all steel. It will replace the old building.

An unusual feature in this undertaking is that the new building is being constructed over the existing old building. When the new project is completed, the old building will be torn down from beneath the new structure.

The company has explained that, by doing this, interruption of its production will be held to a minimum.

The building to be replaced was put up in 1938. Presently the building houses all the forging equipment. Several years ago the length was increased and a new brick front was added.

The new building is being erected because the old one was labeled beyond repair and because of its wood roof, considered a fire hazard.

Many Sabina residents are employed by the company and it is one of the village's biggest and important industries.

Paul Revere was 40 years old when he made that historical ride.

Wilknit Hosiery Co. Won't Quit Business

LEESBURG — The Wilknit Hosiery Co. here has announced that it is not going out of business. L. Lowell Wilknit, president and general manager of the firm, announced previously that the firm would be forced to liquidate, due to increased postage rates.

Wilknit said, "it is our plan not to liquidate the corporation but to try to find other products and perhaps other methods of distribution." Wilknit will probably continue for at least another year or two in the hosiery business.

Wilknit has meant much to Leesburg, not only providing employment, but also providing Leesburg with a first class post office.

Ike Outlines U. S. Stand on Formosa Issue

as certain as can be that the shooting which the Chinese Communists started on Aug. 23 has as its purpose not just the taking of the island of Quemoy. It is part of what is indeed an ambitious plan of armed conquest.

"This plan would liquidate all of the free world positions in the western Pacific area and bring them under captive governments which would be hostile to the United States and to the free world.

"Thus the Chinese and Russian Communists would come to dominate at least the western half of the now friendly Pacific Ocean. . . .
"I must say to you very frankly and soberly, my friends, the United States cannot accept the result that the Communists seek. Neither can we show, now a weakness of purpose—a timidity. . . .

"If history teaches anything, appeasement would make it more likely that we should have to fight a major war."

But almost in the next breath Eisenhower emphasized he feels dutybound "not to make absolute advance commitments, but to use my judgment according to the circumstances of the time."

Tucked away, almost lost, in his call for prompt diplomatic talks with Red China were two sentences: "There are measures that can be taken to assure that the offshore islands will not be a thorn in the side of peace. We believe that arrangements are urgently required to stop gunfire and to pave the way to a peaceful solution."

Officials said this was a clear suggestion for a basis of negotiation.

Eisenhower urged an early start in projected U.S.-Red Chinese talks at Warsaw. If these do not fully succeed, he said, he might turn to the United Nations.
